

The SHEA Education & Research Foundation is dedicated to advancing the field of healthcare epidemiology, infection prevention and antibiotic stewardship through education and research.

2012-2016

$571,062
PAID OUT

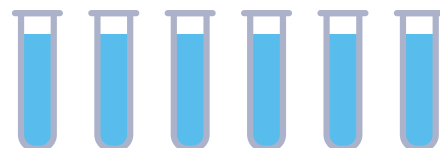

in Awards, Scholarship, Ambassador Program, SHEA Research Network, Fellows Education, and SHEA Epi Project.

THREE AREAS OF FOCUS

Education and recognition of leaders in the field

Promotion of an international exchange of ideas

Fostering a strategic scientific research agenda

MILESTONES

80 Awards

Recognizing SHEA members with an honorarium for their contributions to the industry, including submitted abstracts and published articles in Infection Control & Hospital Epidemiology.

4 SHEA Epi-Project Winners

- Fostering novel research
- Incubating innovation
- Promoting strong infection prevention research

SHEA Research Network (SRN)

Consortium of over 100 hospitals collaborating on multi-center research projects working to address important gaps in healthcare epidemiology.

56 Scholarships

Recognizing Infection Preventionists, Researchers and Fellows to foster interest in healthcare epidemiology and promote the next generation.

1/3 of SHEA Members Donate Annually

Foundation Dinner at SHEA

2015: 125 attendees | 2016: 150 attendees
Featuring engaging personal topics from speakers to inspire current and future leaders.

85 International Ambassadors

Selecting international leaders to learn in order to return to their countries to train, mentor and share knowledge in healthcare epidemiology and infection prevention building a global culture of infection prevention and antibiotic stewardship.